McNary High, in its first year of existence has become a distinctive school. An element which has made it so is the unique coat of arms.

One of the few schools to have an official crest in Oregon, it is composed of a traditional Scottish thistle and wreath placed above a shield and crossed Claymore war swords. Found on the left side of the shield is a beaver, indigenous of Oregon. On the other side is a royal Scottish lion. Within the shield an American eagle, the symbol of Senator McNary's many years of service to his country, occupies a place of prominence. A leaping salmon symbolizes both the basic source of food for the original settlers of the area and a form of recreation. A Celtic cross depicts the spirit of the pioneers. The traditional symbol of education, a lighted torch, signifies youth's perpetual search for knowledge. Located around the base of the torch are berries, the symbol of the agriculture important to this area.

This crest, therefore, expresses the past, the present, and the future. Because of this, it is meaningful to every student.

The symbol of this yearbook, McNary's first, is the Claymore war sword. To the Celts of old, the sword represented strength, power, and pride. As the Celts of McNary High, we should value the strength and power of the education we have received and vow to never stop learning. We should be proud of ourselves and of our school for through this combined effort we are shaped into strong, dependable individuals. It is sincerely hoped that as you turn the pages of the Claymore, you will see the sights, once again, which meant the most to you, the things which highlighted 1965-1966.

Order of the Celts

This is the high award presented by the student body and administration of McNary High School to a man having endeared himself by loyal service and good works for the youth of his community.

This spring this award was presented to the following distinguished gentlemen.

Phil Barrager

Onas Olson

Ed Stanley

Mr. M. V. McKeon, whose picture was not available, is an expert in heraldry. He reviewed the McNary coat of arms and secured pictures of the authentic Claymore sword.

Mr. and Mrs. Onas Olson gave the United States and Oregon State outdoor flags to the A.S.B. officers in a presentation before the opening day of school.

Order of the Heather

This is the high award presented by the student body and administration of McNary High School to a woman having endeared herself by loyal service and good works for the youth of her community.

This spring the award was presented to the following honorable ladies. Mrs. Loren Hicks
Mrs. Willard Marshall
Mrs. Onas Olson

Mrs. Willard Marshall contributed the McNary family history and the Scottish thistle on our crest.

A Scottish native, Mrs. Loren Hicks provided reference works on the Tartans and their land.

Artist Phil Barrager drew up our coat of arms, our unique ring design, and our charging Celt.

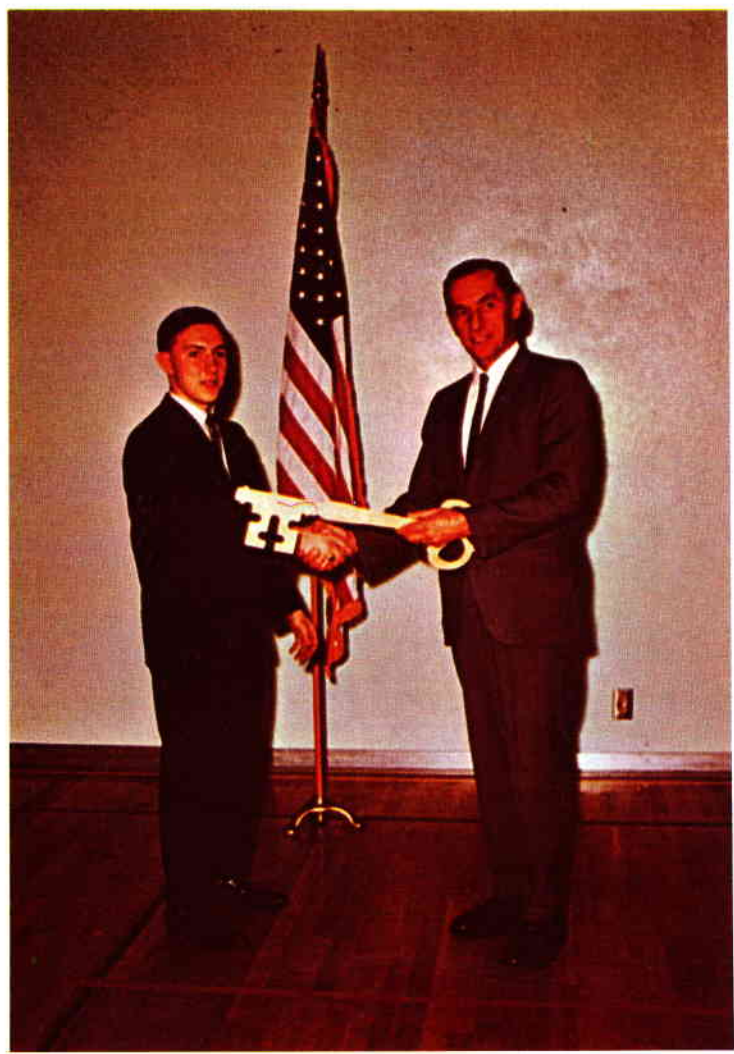

Ed Stanley has since 1963 been coordinator of planning, artistry and research for McNary's entire Scottish theme.

Gurnee Flesher, who has worked diligently to make McNary successful in its first year, has proved to be an efficient and friendly head administrator.

McNary's

A hard-working spirit booster, Robert Voigt, in his various duties as vice principal, has assisted Mr. Flesher expertly.

Mr. Strozyk, McNary's helpful and understanding Dean of Boys, also adds variety and liveliness to our daily routines.

McNary girls always find an open door into the Dean of Girls' office and a warm welcome from Mrs. Rita Gloor.

Mr. Broderson goes beyond the call of duty to assist the seniors and the college bound students of McNary High.

Mighty Master Minds

Mr. Wendling guides sophomores in their first high school year.

Juniors need not be afraid to consult jovial Mr. Barker.

Mr. Danskin, vocational counselor, prepares us for future jobs.

The school board is a community service organization which performs several duties pertaining to the efficient function of our district's schools. The board determines all general policies for school district 24J as well as more technical matters. The members handle problems concerning school transportation, financing, a set curriculum, establishment of boundaries for district schools, rules governing both teachers and students, employment of teaching and administrative staffs, school budgets, and other minor rulings, such as library and lunchroom procedures.

The members of the school board are elected by popular vote as representatives of parents of students and property owners. They are elected in June for a term of five years.

The school board members meet on the second and fourth Thursdays of every month in the Administration Building on Ferry Street in Salem. Faculty members, townspeople, and Superintendent of Schools, Charles D. Schmidt, are also present at these meetings.

The members of the school board include: Mrs. Sherrilyn Maltby, Chairman; Sid Boise, Vice-chairman; James B. Daniels; Henry Hohwiesner, Jr.; and A. T. King. The District Clerk, Connell C. Ward, is a general secretary to the board.

Secretaries Supervise Business Matters

The duties of Mrs. Myrtle Smith include setting up and recording attendance, reporting the absence patterns to Mr. Voigt, making out absence reports, supervising the student office workers, and handling disciplinary files and letters.

Mrs. Betty Brumfield plays an important part in the school office functions by having such responsibilities as being the office manager, keeping track of the teacher's supplies, and making requisitions and purchase orders.

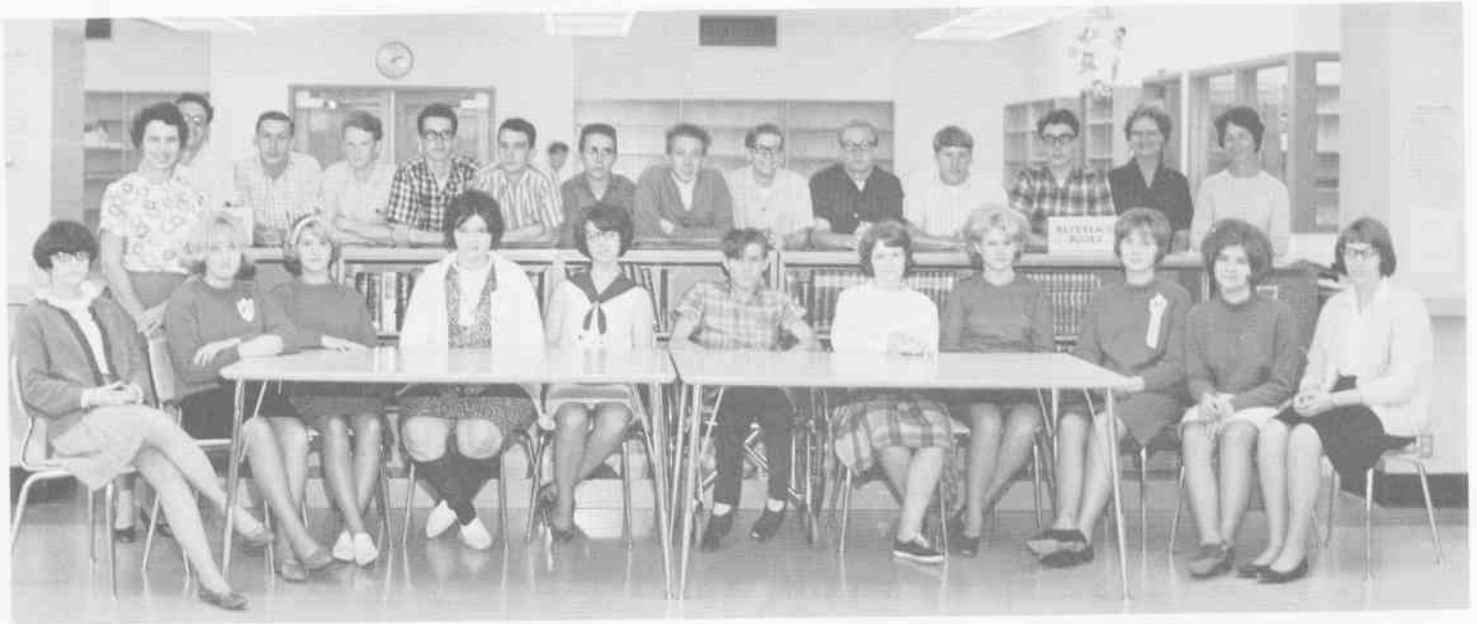

Mrs. Jean Lavey has various office responsibilities, including: Counselor's secretary, mimeographing and duplicating materials with student help, and taking care of matters involving ill students.

Also writing receipts, routing bus transportation, and making requisitions and purchase orders is Mrs. Wilma McGuire. Among her other duties include: Keeping books and accounts, handling tickets, handling the money, keeping the keys, settling insurance affairs, setting up athletic games, and setting up change for the student store.

A Well-staffed Library Aid Students in Research

Mrs. Hickock gives an orientation to students and explains the functions of the Library to them.

Cooks and Cookery in new McNary kitchen

The new modern equipment and facilities make the work a pleasure for Mrs. Emeline McDougal and Mrs. Margaret Hickman.

Helping in the preparation and serving of a noon meal at McNary is Mrs. Esther Feddern.

Mrs. Valva Holcomb, Mrs. Mildred Buck, Mrs. Ida Rothweiler, the head cook, and Mrs. Mary Knight keep things under control during the rush for lunch by McNary students.

Also enjoying the modern conveniences in the McNary kitchens are Mrs. Eunice Mitchell, Mrs. Shirlee Fulsom, Mrs. Delores Johnson, and Mrs. Emmamay Welsh.

-Behind the Scene-

Our hard working matrons at McNary who work at keeping things in order around the building are Mrs. June Sherrod and Mrs. Carol Mulkey.

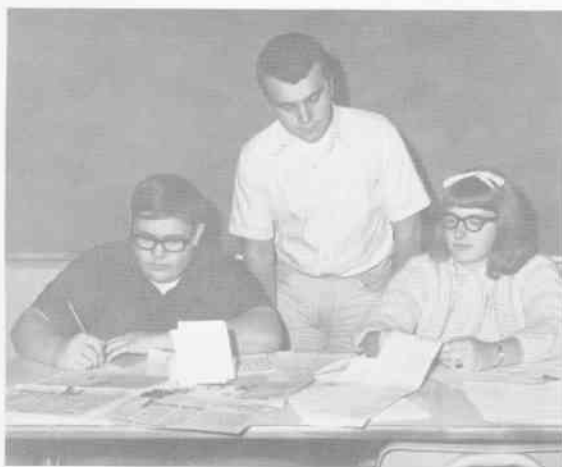

Serving on the maintenance staff are Herman Vogl, Herman Settgast, Bud Rice, Tom Garrison, Ernest Britton, James Rosencrans, and Doug DeRouch.

Mr. Broderson, editorial advisor, discusses the copies of the latest edition of the PIPER with editor, Nicci Peet.

All The News That's Fit To Pipe

Editor, Nicci Peet, and the Piper staff have produced a paper any first year school could be proud of. Working together to turn out an interesting, informative newspaper, the main editors; assistant editor, Marilyn Pfau; feature editor, Greg Tryon; sports editor, Steve Neal; and copy editor, Allan Miles added touches of polished finish to school news. Their goal, which was to include every student's name in the paper at least once throughout the year, added liveliness to the Piper.

Previewing an edition of the PIPER, Greg Tryon, Bob Bair, and Jan Glennie busily add the finishing touches.

Allan Miles and Bill Gibson concentrate intently on articles to be used in a future PIPER edition.

Bob Frisbie, PIPER photographer, enlarges pictures for a column in the paper.

Sports editor Steve Neal dictates a new story with staff members Marilyn Pfau and JoAnne Myers.

CLAYMORE Stabs '66 in Pics

Producing a school yearbook which will set traditions was the problem faced by the Claymore staff. Editors Marcia Jenny and Bill Hodges and their staff worked diligently throughout the year to compose an exciting representation of McNary High School's first year. A mixture of all three classes on the staff helped future editors learn the techniques of producing a yearbook.

Mrs. Leindecker, editorial advisor for the CLAYMORE, gives helpful advice to industrious student editors, Marcia Jenny and Bill Hodges.

Advertising Keeps Business Staffs Busy

The business staffs contributed to both the Piper and the Claymore. General business manager for both publications, Teri Smith, with fine assistance from Ken Hilligoss and Henry Wiens, kept records of sales of yearbooks, as well as costs of ads for the Piper.

The Piper business staff had the task of selling ads, which was 75% of the cost of the paper, and placing them in the issues as directed by the businesses.

The Claymore business staff was responsible for the sales and distribution of the yearbook.

Mrs. Hamilton, business staff advisor, and general business staff manager, Teri Smith, work together to arrange attractive ads for the Piper and wide publicity for the Claymore.

Mr. Bellock, who supervises the school photographers, and cameramen Bob Frisbie and Lynn Workman, run through a set of negatives taken at a previous basketball game.

Steve Hines, Dennis Hilligoss, ElVaughn Williams, and Bill Reagan compare ideas for selling advertising space in the Piper.

Filing various ads for the Piper are Ken Hilligoss, Teri Smith, and Henry Wiens.

Even V. I. P. 'S Get Caught Off Guard

"Genius is 1% inspiration and 99% perspiration."

"It needs a little more Score on the top," Greg Tryon "commands" greasily as he and Bill Gibson prepare for an average Piper staff day.

Jo Anne Myers, Greg Tryon, Allan Miles, and Van Woolfe of our cultured Piper staff take time out for a seance.

Nothing is able to disturb the peace and tranquility Claymore editor Marcia Jenny gains as she ponders well-constructed lay-outs.

Choral Groups Perform At

Greg Barnwell, Sandi McLeod, Diane Fancher, Carol Wood, and Bill Hodges exercise their voices and adjust their robes with the help of Mrs. Alice Jones, choir instructor, in preparation for a concert.

McNary's first choirs have given many fine performances throughout the year. They have made many appearances in public as well as at school functions. The A Cappella choir's singing ability took them to the Capitol Rotunda on December twenty-first, and they were featured on a half-hour program on radio station KAPT in Salem on December twenty-third. The new year had them busily preparing for the Salem High School Choir Festival at North Salem High's auditorium on March 8th, the District No. 4 Choral Festival at Albany on April 23, the Spring Pops Concert at McNary on April 19, and the Baccalaureate ceremonies in May.

The Student Body feels as does Mrs. Alice Jones, choir director, that "for the first year we've had an amazingly good choir." This praise is directed not only for the A Cappella choir, but also to our Mixed Choir and Girl's Glee. They have presented good performances and shown great willingness to work. Their performances include mainly McNary concerts. However, they also performed at the Salem High School Choir Festival.

Mrs. Jones described the year as being "a thoroughly satisfying experience working with these students."

Mrs. Jones heads the McNary vocal department.

Muscicians Add To

"Our band was a young one, and we were all getting used to new routines, new players next to each other, and the demands of a new high school schedule." These were the feelings of Mr. Grant Hagestedt, band director, as he discussed the progress of the band during its first year. These musicians have represented McNary well at all pep assemblies, sports events, special assemblies, and concerts.

McNary High School's orchestra had a very successful and busy first year. Under the direction of its conductor, Mr. Daniel Stern, the orchestra participated in five concerts. In addition to its regular concerts, the orchestra also performed in the District Orchestra Festival and Contest, making extremely good showings at each.

Mr. Stern demands top performance for the orchestra members.

Throughout the past year, the class of 1968 has started many of the Celtic traditions. Being McNary's first three year graduating class, the Sophomores have begun work setting the foundation for the future years. During "Spirit Week" their group participation and enthusiasm helped make the event successful. The sophomore class advisors and officers succeeded in gaining the confidence and cooperation of the students through their ideas and advise involving class activities.

McNary High School's first A.S.B. Officers have done an outstanding job in organizing school functions and setting traditions during the '65-'66 school year. They have made favorable impressions while representing McNary at other schools and have been hospitable while hosting visitors. One of the first major tasks the A.S.B. Officers undertook was accepting and revising the school's constitution. Much of the success of McNary's first year can be attributed to the influence of the A.S.B. Officers.

Through McNarys Lettermens Club

"Alright you guys, let's have it quiet. We've got a lot of things to get accomplished today." This is how many Lettermen's Club meetings started for the year 65-66 at McNary. This unorganization, or so it seems, did not hinder these athletes from chartering Lettermen's as an official club, nor did it stop them from having one of the most successful events at McNary this year, the Lettermen's Annual Gardenia Ball. Included in their activities throughout the year was an ice cream feed. McNary's Lettermen's Club also assisted the Keizer Rotary and Merchants in the Spaghetti Feed held in the Celt Cafeteria.

McNary has much to thank this club for. They helped in many social events and when a job had to be done, the Lettermen's Club was there to do it.

With a fine start this year and many returning athletes next year, prospects for future McNary Lettermen's Club are bright.

Pep Club does an outstanding job supporting Celtic teams

Ski Club Enjoys Long Season

The McNary High Ski Club, one of the school's largest, had many varied programs. For the most part, they dealt with proper skiing etiquette and techniques.

Although the ski trip which had been scheduled for Christmas Vacation was cancelled, the club still gave McNary's avid skiers an opportunity to "talk shop" and compare ideas on the fine art of skiing.

The club was open to all students who wished to either learn to ski or to improve their ability. The club was hindered by getting a late start by gathering a large, enthusiastic following.

Ski Club officers and Miss Cutler and advisor study various methods of skiing before presenting them to the club. The officers include Graig Spickerman, Merna Bender, Greg Roach. Not pictured is president, Jack Benson.

Latin Club Stresses Language, Heritage

Intium et Successus (or in English, the beginning and success) best describes Latin Club's first year of existence at McNary. With president, Corkie Svinth, ably advised by Latin teacher, Miss Culter, the club succeeded in getting an official school charter, electing officers, and setting tradition for the years to come. Helping Miss Culter and Corkie were the other club officers: Bill Reagan, vice-president; Steve Hines, secretary; and Karen Bush, treasurer. Some of the club's activities for the year included initiation, which featured the crushing of grapes, and a Latin Club Banquet.

With the tremendous enthusiasm shown by all of the members of McNary's first Latin Club, Miss Culter has high hopes for the future, and if the following years are as successful as this one has been, Latin Club will be one of the best clubs at McNary.

German Club Learns From Exchange Students

Row 1: Angie Mihalisko, Pam Sjearer, Judy Boyington, Marilyn Butte, Ann Inks, Barbara Updagraff, Chris Bowerly, Marsha Grib-skov, Lesley Wagner, Mr. Boost, Rick Fisher, Robert McCaughry. Row 3: Ritchie Hanneman, Philip Hilfiker, Reinhard Boelow, Sam Orcutt, Neil Bryant, Roger Schoenborn, Frieder Schnieder, Dave Baur, Larry Zollner, Ron Boltman, Gene Aldridge.

McNary's two exchange students were a most important contributing factor to the success of German Club. Both Katharina Juhl and Frieder Schnieder presented programs dealing with their way of life in Germany and also the geography of their respective areas.

The programs were augmented by the presentations of German-made newsreels as actually shown in Germany. These programs aided club members in gaining valuable insight into Germany.

Vive La French Club!

The French Club of McNary started a tradition of activity this year. Leaders of the club were Daniele Scott, President; Henri Wiens, Vice-president; Pattie Kunowski, Secretary; and Kathy Svendsen, Treasurer. Mrs. Kathleen Davis, French teacher, supervised all club activities.

The activities began in the fall with initiation banquet. In December club members were busy preparing for the Christmas Salem Language Clubs' Sing at the YMCA and a McNary Language Club Carolling trip to nursing homes in the Salem area. "French" friends from North Salem, and McNary club members met at North for a combined party in February. Easter found the club as busy as ever making Easter baskets for children in Salem Memorial Hospital. As the year's finale, members met in May for their Spring Potluck. Here the final "le reunion s'agourne" ("the meeting is adjourned") was spoken and French Club members parted for the summer.

French club officers Pattie Kunowsky, Kathy Svendson, Henri Wiens, and Daniele Scott discuss club activities with advisor, Mrs. Kathleen Davis.

Spanish Students Shout Ole!

Spanish Club was one of the more active clubs at McNary this year. Mrs. Donna Wendling assisted the officers, Jeena Kerber, president; Charles Holcom, vice-president; Kathy Patterson, secretary; Sally Deiser, treasurer, and Teri Smith, historian, in suggesting activities to the club.

Initiation was held informally at the Fall Potluck dinner. As Christmas drew near, club members kept busy practicing carols for the McNary language clubs' trip to Salem nursing homes. They were also practicing skits for the Christmas Fiesta and filling a basket with food and wrapped packages for a needy Salem family. Isabel Eggart, South Salem exchange student from Peru, came to speak to the club in the early spring. McNary Club members selected a South American dance and taught it to various Willamette Valley high school Spanish clubs to perform together for the State Language Field Day at the University of Oregon in May. The last activity of the Spanish Club was their Spring Banquet honoring senior members and retiring officers.

Spanish activity ideas originate in meetings of the officers, Kathy Patterson, secretary; Teri Smith, historian; Jeena Kerber, president; Chuck Holcom, vice-president, and Sally Deiser, treasurer with Mrs. Donna Wendling, advisor.

Do, Re, Mi Attracts Students

Officers of the club, Dana Rappe, Publicity Manager; Phillip Hilfiker, President; Don Evans, Vice-President; Nancy Sutherland, Treasurer; and Jo Ann Blair, Historian meet with advisors Mr. Stern and Mr. Hagestedt.

McNary's Music Club was one of the bigger Celtic clubs this year with a membership of thirty-nine. At the head of this group, were President, Phillip Hilfiker, Vice-President, Don Evans; Secretary, Sue Porter; Treasurer, Nancy Sutherland, Historian, Jo Ann Blair; and Publicity Manager, Dana Rappe. Mr. Stern, orchestra leader, and Mr. Hagestedt, band leader, supervised activities.

The activities of the club were planned at noon meetings. Members gathered in December for a Christmas carolling party, and their informal initiation party turned out to be a great success.

Ivory-pushers Enter Competition

"Checkmate!" Another game ends for the McNary Chess Club. Whether it's a win or loss, one can tell by the look advisor, Mr. Pete Murray, gives to the player.

This year McNary's Chess Club participated in intrastate competition in the Willamette Valley Chess League with six other high schools. They played in twelve meets-- one home meet and one away meet with each school.

Five members who each play one game with an opponent of his own rank participated in each meet.

McNary finished fourth in the league, behind Corvallis, Albany, and South Salem.

President of the Chess Club, Bob Frisbe, says the team "did very well" in its first year "almost taking third place" and "next year they will have a superb chess team."

Chess Club advisor, Mr. Pete Murray, and president, Bob Frisbe, are very pleased with their first year.

Club Makes Homemaking Fun

Seated around a table in an executive meeting of the Home Economics Club are the officers, Carol Lorenz, secretary-treasurer; Pat Halsey, vice-president; Shirley Staggs, president; Kay Lamer, historian, and club advisor, Mrs. Welty.

McNary's Home Economics Club was headed this year by Shirley Staggs, president; Pat Halsey, vice-president; Carol Lorenz, secretary-treasurer; and Kay Lamer, historian. Supervising the club's activities was Mrs. Welty, McNary's Home Economics teacher.

The club met with North Salem's Home Economics Club at the Kopper Kitchen North for a combined banquet, Kathrina Jhul, McNary's exchange student from Germany, was the guest speaker.

A tea and spring fashion show were held for Whitteaker Junior High's ninth grade girls to give the younger girls an idea of what to expect in high school Home Economics classes.

Speakers Sound Off

The Speech Club, under the guidance of Miss Emily Jerman, competed in several speech meets this year. McNary speakers participated in speech meets at Dallas, Linfield College and Corvallis. Although no trophies were won by the orators this year, they did a fine job of starting a speech club for McNary.

Bill Reagan, Mike Fitzjohn, and Bob Mial were entered in Oratory and Serious Interpretation divisions. Henri Wiens and Steve Hines specialized in Extemporaneous and Impromptu speeches.

Because the club had so few members in its first year, they had no officers; rather, they relied on group participation in government.

F.B.L.A. Members Acquire Skills

McNary's Future Business Leaders set the basis for their organization in October in 1965. Their first main concern was the election of officers and drafting their constitution. Installation of officers was held in the school cafeteria in November. In March, the club sponsored a fashion show for "The Business Girl." Sue Ferguson of the Cinderella School of Charm was commentator. The FBLA of North were special guests. The new officers elected in May will take over next year and support their fine organization.

Teaching Techniques Taught to F.T.A.

The F.T.A. of McNary High School has been an active organization during the 1965-1966 school year. Led by Mrs. Alice Jones, the Future Teachers of America have sponsored activities beneficial to expanding knowledge in this field. The year's activities were boosted by the formal initiation held in the fall. Other functions include a "Teacher Appreciation Day" when the members acknowledged the work of teachers. During the spring term, they held a tea for the corresponding teachers who worked with the cadets during the year. This event concluded a successful year for the F.T.A.

The officers of F.T.A., Marti Meade, Craig Spickerman, Carol Wood, Teri Smith and Pam Pillette led by advisor Mrs. Alice Jones, worked together planning activities for the year.

Honor Society Recognizes Outstanding Students

Linda Elkins, Meg Johnson, Pat Beller, Julie Sommerset, Karen Runner, Katherina Juhl, and Sue Tracy participate as active members of McNary's National Honor Society.

The National Honor Society is a group of students who are chosen on the basis of scholarship, leadership, and service to their school. Juniors are tapped in the spring and seniors in the winter. Membership in the Society is an honor and the students who are chosen are the finest representatives of their school. This year there were twenty-five members in the Society. A charter was presented to the national association and accepted by them. The induction ceremony was held on May 15. McNary was very proud of this fine group of young people representing their school.

Billiards Club Takes The Cue

Billiards Club, being a new idea for a school sanctioned organization, had tremendous support from all of its members. With this kind of support, Billiards should go far as one of the better clubs of McNary. At left, Mr. Colin Morris, club advisor, explains the fine art of pocket billiards, or how to hit the ball and live.

Drama Group Works Hard on Plays

Drama Club advisor and officers, Coral Bailie, Diana Amend, Miss Nilsen, Bobby Longstreet and Janis Glennie look over the script of a play to be presented by the drama students.

The Drama Club of McNary High School has been involved in several events during the 1965-66 school year. Their main project concerned the production of the Christmas play, "Many Moons". This was an enjoyable play for the younger children and was excellently performed. Drama plays involve hard work and cooperation on the part of each student involved and all members of the Drama Club were outstanding in this respect.

Row 1: Janis Glennie, Sue Porter, Francis McKindley, Patty Gadway, Cathy Jenkins, Jacque Bowder, Diana Amend, Nicci Peet. Larry Spangler, President

The Junior Class has contributed very much to the success of the first year at McNary High School. Not having any money in their treasury, the Junior Class sponsored many events to earn the money needed to back such things as the Junior-Senior Prom. Some of these things that the Junior Class did were to have sock hops in the little theatre, this fine Junior Class sold popcorn after school and during basketball games, and they organized finance committees which helped on the fund raising. The Junior Class had an excellent year and preceding Junior Classes can only hope to do as well.

J.V. Rally Dedicated Celts

The J.V. Rally worked hard this year practicing every night. The three girls were at every game cheering the boys on whether they won or lost. Their support was appreciated by the student body, especially the J.V. teams.

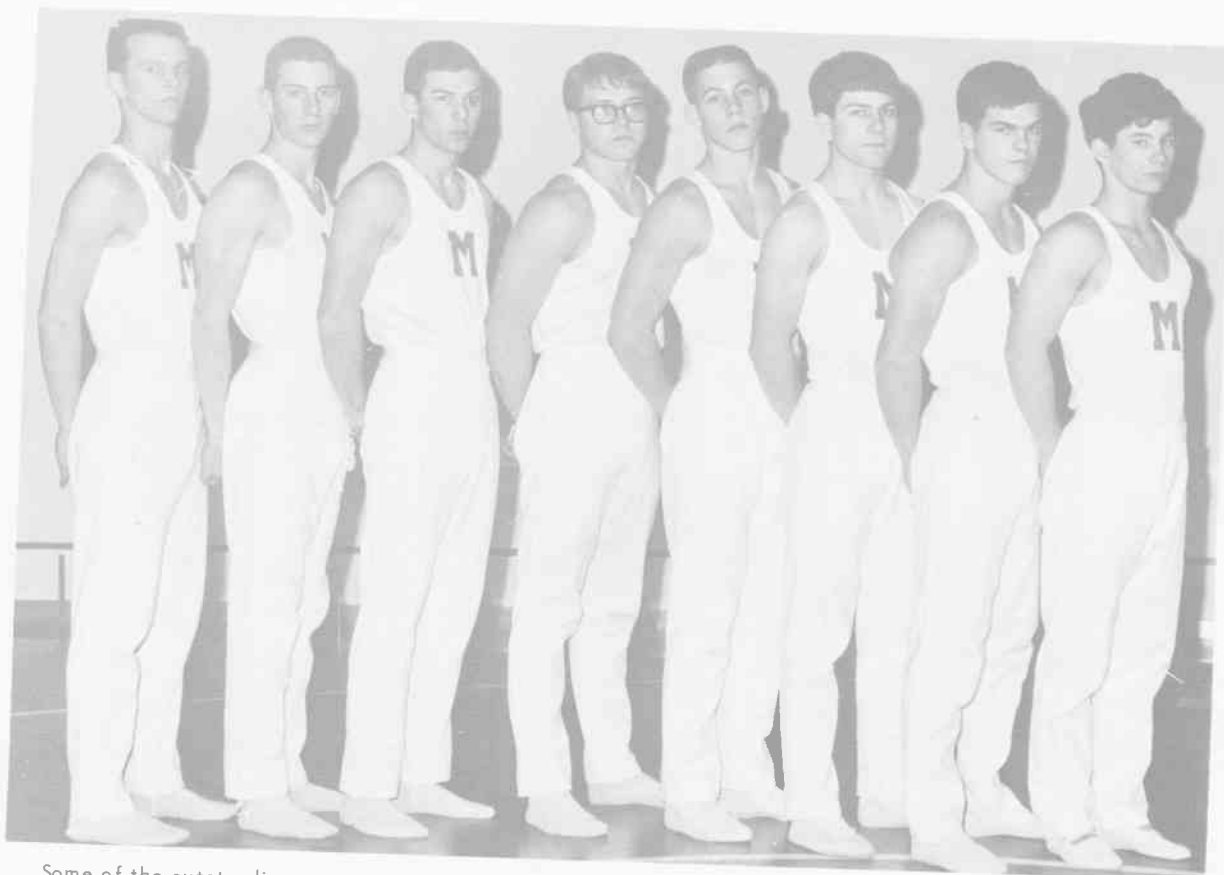

Gymnasts Go Gett'em

Mr. Gary Walls, Doug Church, Bill Gerod, Greg Spickerman, Joe Schlector, Marti Johnson, Bill Cunningham, Dennis Deorfler, Jerry Schuh, Larry Hande, Steve Lovrein, and Mike Lathum; row two, Ron Putman, Tom Wilson, Gregg Allison, Larry Moore, Steve Riedlinger, Bob Pickerel, Brad Malone, Ed Holcom, Steve Ray, Mel Ray, and Michael Jakola.

The boys' gymnastics team, although not gaining many wins, did accomplish many moral victories. Almost every member on the team raised his team score at each meet. The team, coached by Gary Walls, was led into competition by three able-bodied seniors; Ed Holcom, Gregg Allison, and Steve Riedlinger. The team will have depth in the years to come as there are many fine prospects among the returning men. Some of the returning lettermen for next year are Jerry Schuh, Mel Ray, and Larry Moore, Steve Ray, and Doug Church from the sophomore ranks. All in all, the team had a very fine season and McNary can look for many more fine seasons in the future.

In McNary's first year, there was also a fine girls gymnastics team. The team was made up of mostly sophomores and juniors who gave of their time to work out every night after school. The team was coached by Mrs. LaBounty and Miss Cutler who also gave their time and experience to provide a base for the team to build upon. Leading the team's competitors were; Juniors; Pam Shearer, Jenny Young, and Lelalia Smith; and Sophomores; Debbie Pillette, Virginia Osborn, and Elaine Mackey. Although not competing with other schools, the girls performed in front of spectators before the boys gymnastics meets began. The girls did outstanding work and can look forward to many more successful seasons.

Jayvee's Take 2nd In District

The Jayvee's had a fine year this year winning 5 and losing 2. The team was a very spirited team while playing "Root Hog". This was a game that brought a lot of enthusiasm to our fine Jayvee team. The Jayvee's should be congratulated for their very fine season. This year's Jayvee team will be remembered through Celtic history.

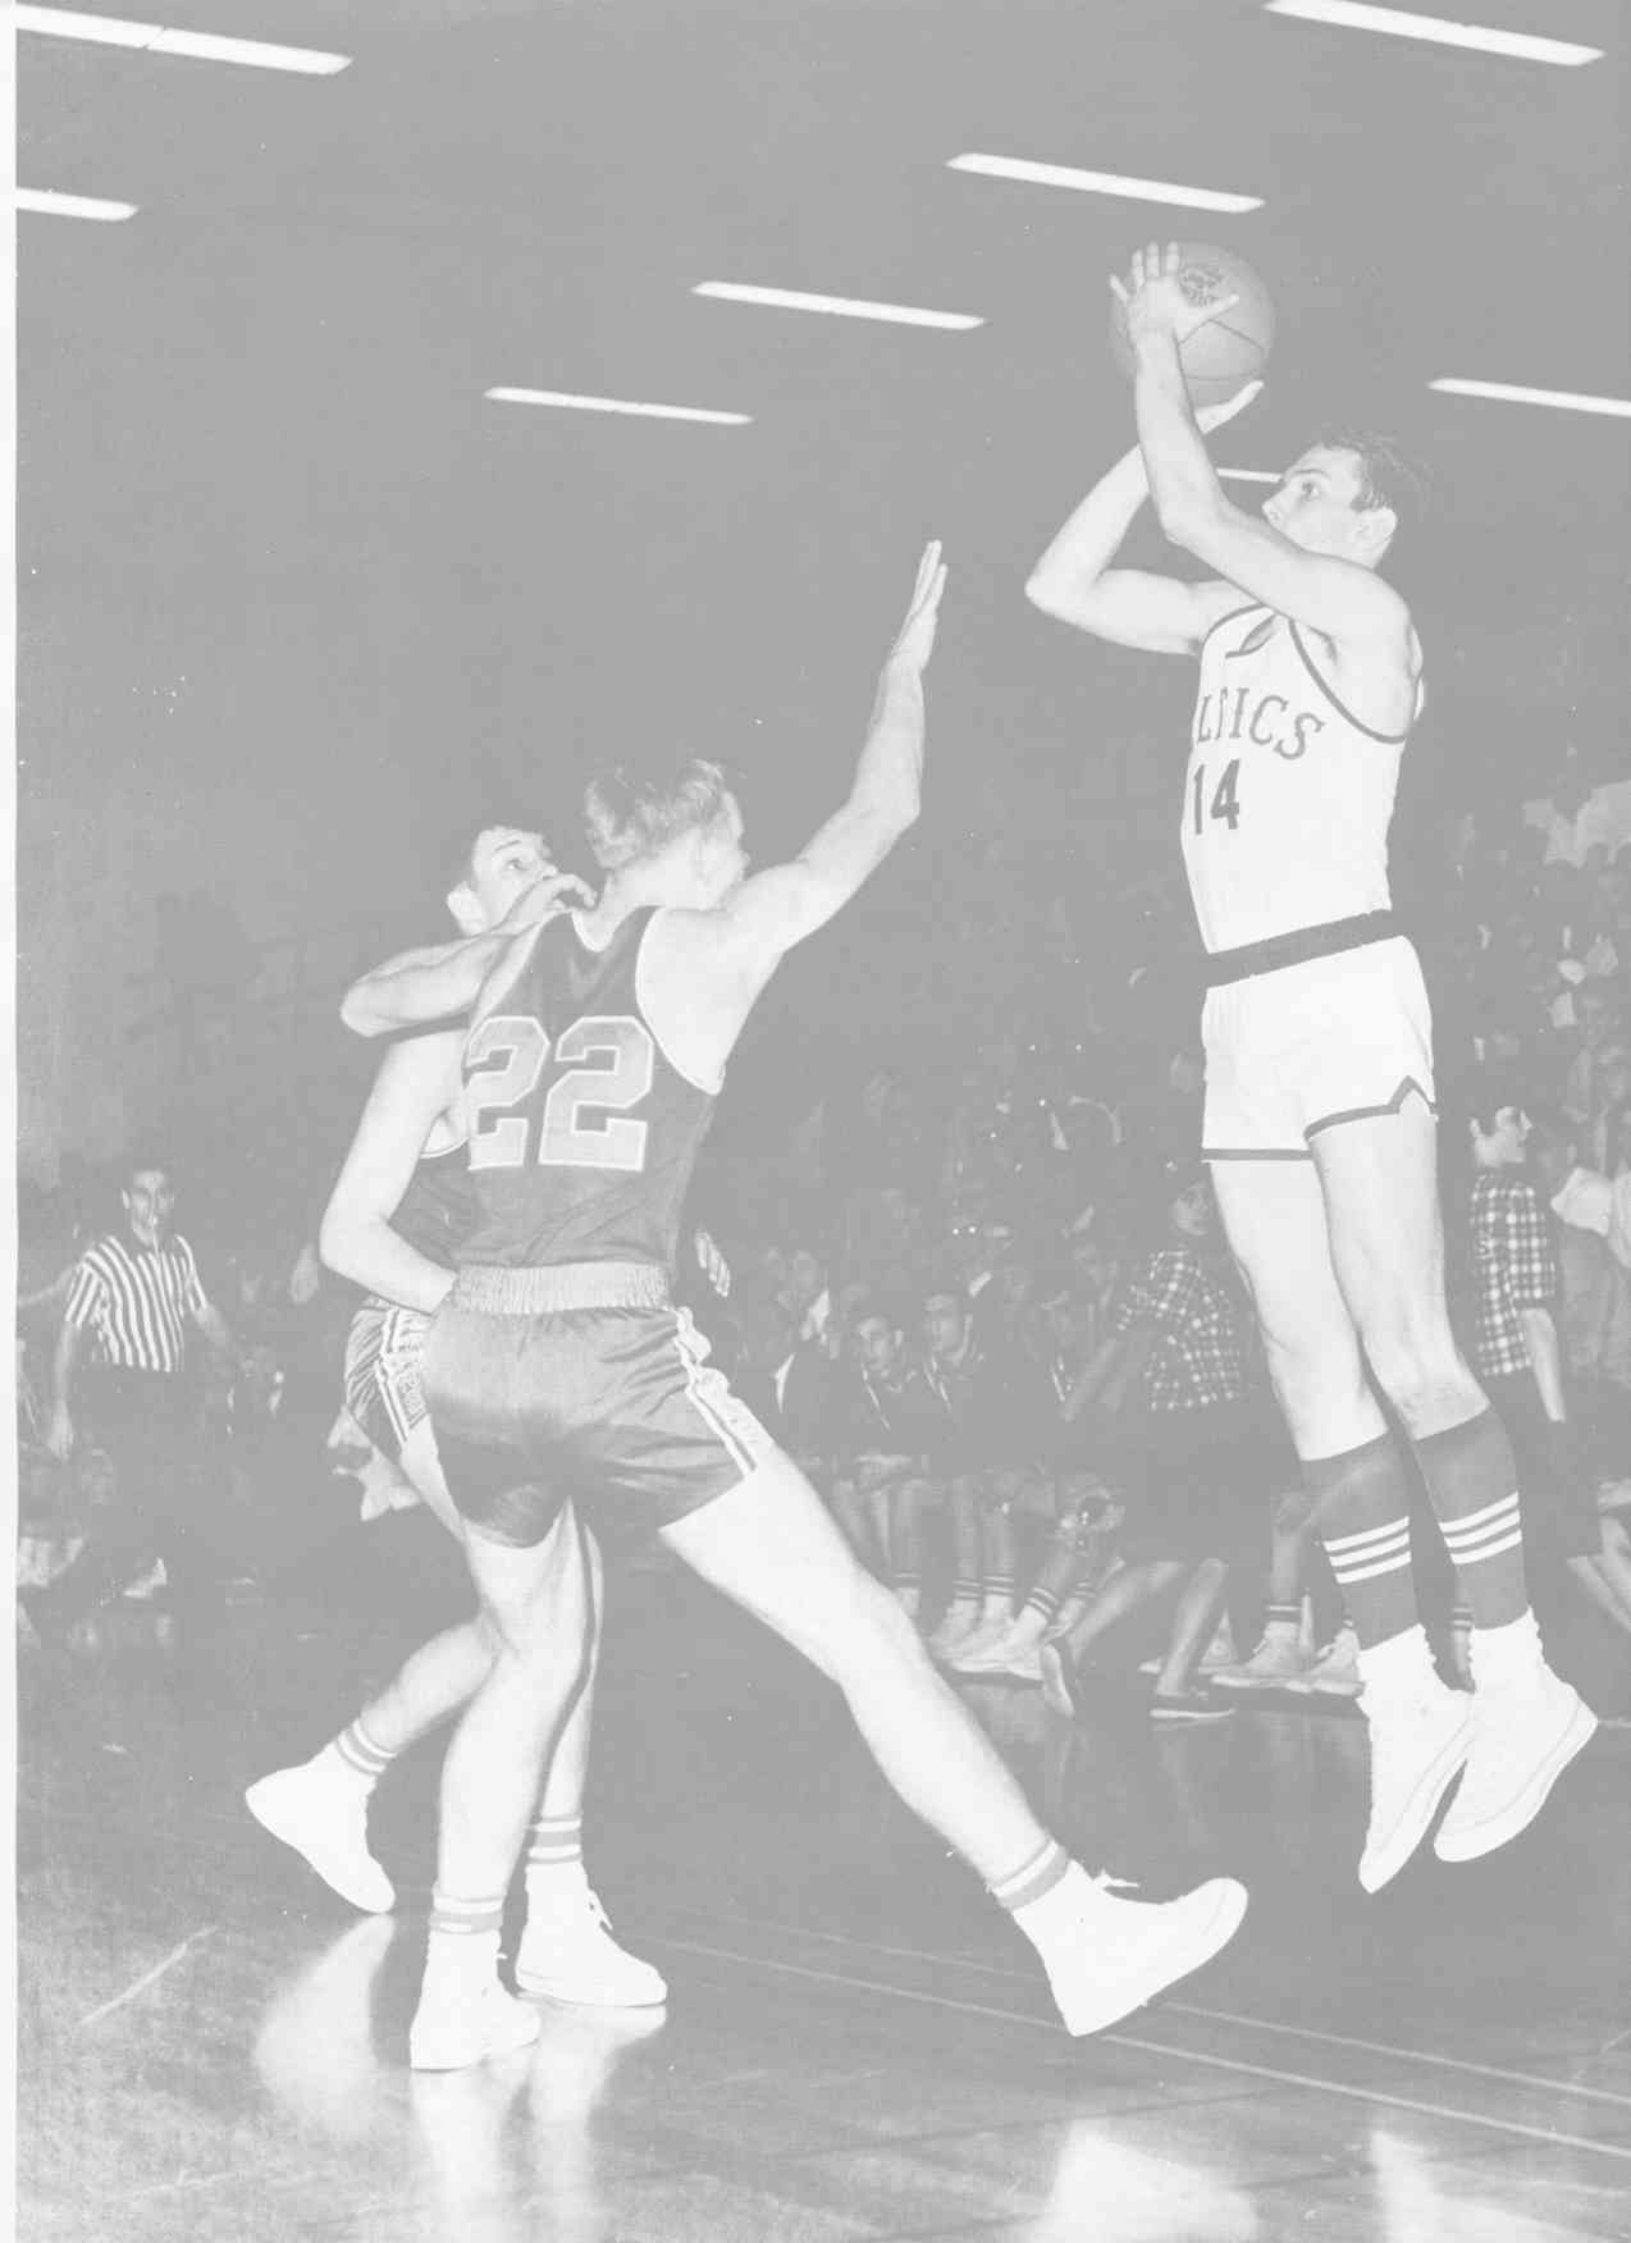

Toney Flag, Brad Malone, Marty Johnson, Tom Wilson, Wayne Whitmore, Daryl Opella, Don Gunther, Chuck Holcome, were some of the stand outs during the Jayvee season.

Young Stars of McNary

Coach Fox stood by these Junior Varsity Athletes to achieve victory for the Celtics. Standing: Alan Slattum, Terry Thies, Mike Humphreys, Bob Kitchen, Ron Sandstrom, Rob Cameron, Ed Bartlett.

McNary's winning baseball team ended a fine season with a 7 win 5 loss record as it accomplished second place in district. Although getting off to a slow start by losing 1-0 to Sweet Home, the team put their heads to the bat and ground four wins out of their last five games. Leading the team to success were Bob Wright, Ed Holcomb, Dennis Harbaugh, and John Roberts. Bob Wright, the team's most valuable player, was an outstanding athlete who added much power and enthusiasm to the team. The event during the season that "Little Bobby" will be remembered for most is the hit he got against Albany. Bases were loaded and the score was four to two. Albany's favor, and Bob hit a tremendous triple that bounced off of the center field fence. Along with the most valuable player on the Celtic team, Bob got the honor of being chosen unanimously as all-district catcher.

Ed Holcomb, another choice for all-district honors, was the team "holler" guy. He picked the team up after losses and was the spark plug that keyed many Celtic victories. Ed was chosen the team Hustler, an honor given to the man on the squad who got the team going and who's overall spirit revived the team in times when they were in the "valley of fatigue."

Dennis Harbaugh, also all-district material, was chosen by the team as the most improved player. Dennis never played organized baseball in school before, came out this year and was second only to Bob Wright in hitting. It was determination like Dennis' that gained the Celts second place in district.

John Roberts gained honors as all-district as well as all-state honors. He was the leading arm on the team and pulled numerous games out of the fire. There is a good chance John will become a major league ballplayer and could very well have a chance to become quite successful.

The team looks forward to a fine season next year as the varsity had fine juniors such as Bill Kliwer, Terry Gardner, Alan Slattum, and John Merier. The junior varsity had good prospects in Larry Ballinger, Mike Humphreys, and Michael Jakola.

Ed Holcomb, a fine fielding-hitting short-stop, was a strong hopeful for all-district honors and did accomplish a substantial honorable mention.

John Roberts, the leading pitcher in the district, saved many games on his way to various honors in District 8 A-1.

Dennis Harbaugh, the team's second leading hitter, also achieved honorable mention as a fine first baseman who saved many outs at the first stop.

Baseballers Bat The Balls

Dave Bair was the tenth man on the team, so to speak, and did an excellent job. This was Dave's first year in organized baseball.

As John Meier would say, "Barry Olson was a character."

Merle Yarnell had the first home run hit at McNary High School.

But Blow The Bases

Steve Riedlinger had the most beautiful swing on the team and won the golden glove award on the team. This award is given to the player who makes the least amount of errors. He made none.

Lanny Hereford, a substitute the first part of the season, came through with a hitting streak that broke him into the starting line-up.

Tom Gray was a fine reliever for the Celts and also a strong hitter with quick wrists and a good eye.

Michael Jakola led the team in hitting with a .374. He also shared the "Team Hustler" award with Mike Humphreys.

The Junior Varsity was led by Michael Jakola, Mike Humphreys, and Larry Ballinger. The two Mikes gained the team's leading honors as the "Team Hustlers". This award is given to the player or players who give the team the greatest spirit and keep it going. The team was coached by Coach Helsar who was really the team "Holler Guy." He will not be back next year and McNary is losing a truly great coach. Coach Helsar turned out some fine ballplayers who will play for Coach Backlund next year.

Batmen Strike Again

"Boys, this is a baseball," states Coach Helsar.

Swimmers Go Ducky

The McNary High School swim team of 1965 completed an outstanding year of determined effort. It was a combined effort of both boys and girls to fight for their school colors. Leading the human ducks to combat were Mr. Halser and Miss Cutler who did outstanding jobs in preparing their teams. Mr. Helser, an art teacher, headed the boys' swim team. This fine team had to make many sacrifices during the course of their preparation for the meets. Our team was led by three seniors, Adam Lengyel, Dave Haskel, and Dennis Lovrien. These three boys helped our team to many moral victories. The girls' swim team was led by Miss Cutler, who teaches physical education. She did a fine job in bringing her girls to their peak. Every person on both swim teams did an excellent job in representing their school. The most important thing that they did during the course of the year was to further a spirit of sportsmanship to every school in which they visited.

Harriers Take To The Highlands

"Look you guys, I'm the coach," reveals Coach Fors.

The Celts warm up before an important meet.

The cross-country team of McNary for the year of 1965, marks the beginning of what looks like many successful years ahead. With Coach Stuart Fors at the helm, the Celts continually improved throughout the season. With the team consisting of only three seniors and the rest underclassmen, Coach Fors can count on outstanding teams in the future. This year's cross-country team has set the tradition of a competitive spirit, good sportsmanship, and outstanding effort for the teams to follow.

Doug Saling, Dwayne Flores, Ron Swick, Coach Fors, Doug Fisher, Lee Wilcox, and Dennis Derfler.

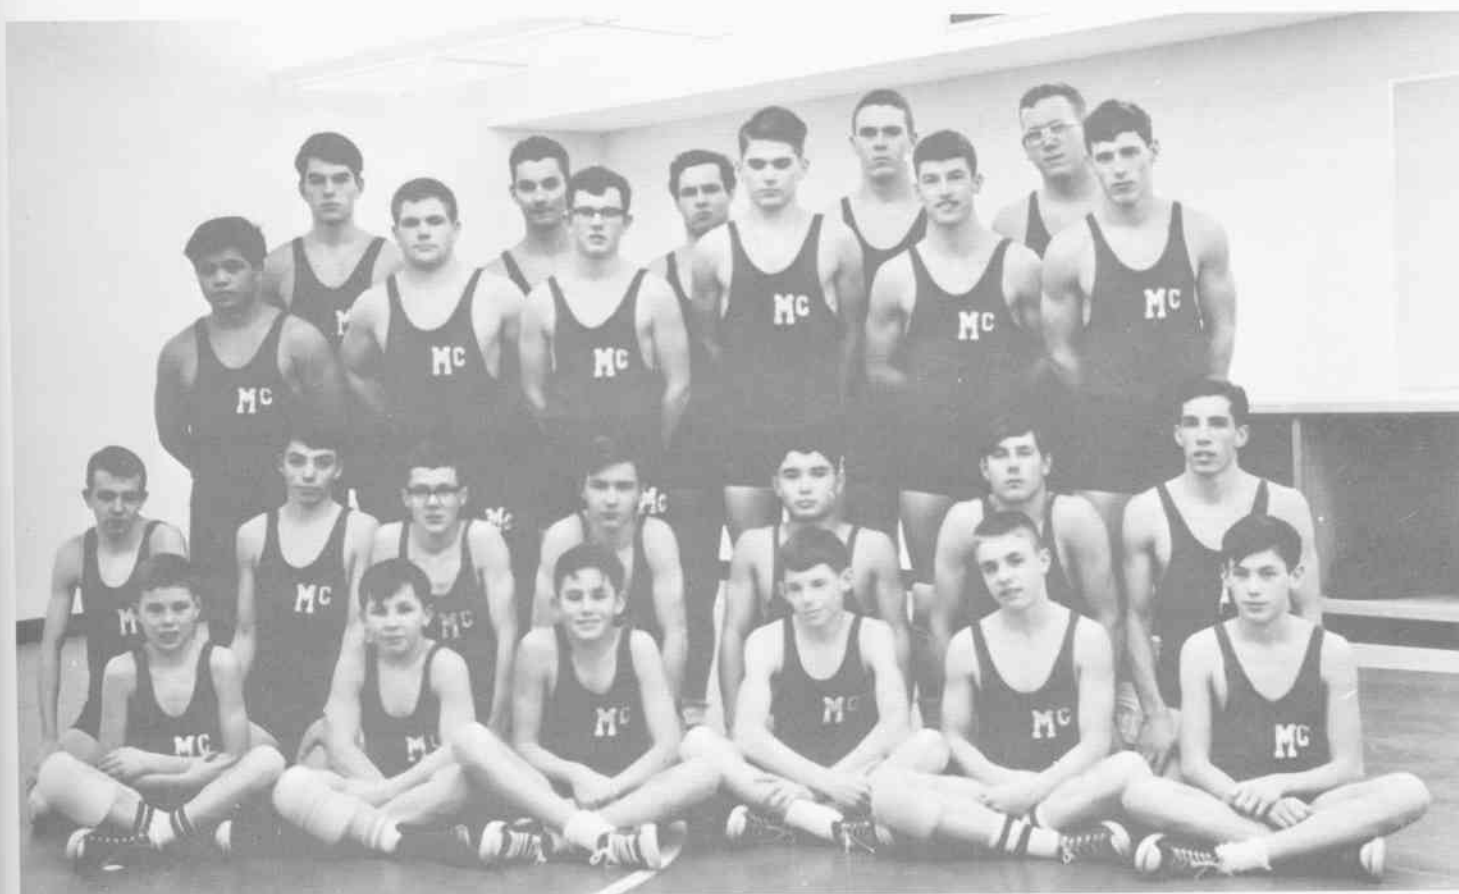

Grapplers Battle to Prominence

Celtic grapplers, coached by Jerry Lane, in their first year set the tradition of sportsmanship typical at McNary. While securing a five win, five loss season, the team boasted of constant improvement and several pleasant surprises in their victories over North and South Salem High Schools.

The Celts were led in their debuting year by sophomores, Dave True and Jim Frey; juniors, Dick Wilmschen, Dick Eby, and Leyton Ellis; and seniors, Ike Reed, Bob Moore and Greg Elwood. Although these mentioned were consistent winners for the Celtics, the whole team practiced with determined effort for improvement throughout the year.

Those wrestlers achieving special recognition during the season were: Leyton Ellis, 106 pound division, third in district; Ike Reed, 115 pound division, third in district; Bob Moore, 157 pound division, third in district; and Dave Bateman, 106 pound division, fourth in district. Also Greg Elwood who placed fourth in the state AAU freestyle with a possible trip to Japan in store for the chunky 168 pounder. Co-captains for the year were Bob Moore and Greg Elwood. The most improved wrestler of the year was sophomore, Dave True.

On the whole, McNary showed District 8 A-1 that the Celts were a team to be reckoned with. Coach Lane can look forward to many fine wrestling squads from Celt Castle in the years to come.

One of the features of the 1965-1966 wrestling season occurred when McNary had the good fortune of hosting the Japanese National Champions. These mighty mites from Japan not only showed their tremendous wrestling abilities in their easy victory over the best in the district but also entertained the 3,500 attending with songs of Japan. All of those who attended will long remember the warm and genuine personalities of these fine young men.

Technique And Improvement,

Coach Fors and the Celtic Cindermen ran their way through a disappointing season. Although they didn't secure a victory in any of their meets, they did have some outstanding performers in their ranks. First and foremost is ElVaughn Williams who was district champ in the 100 and 220 yard dashes. Coach Fors has this to say about ElVaughn, "He was a sure ten points for us in every meet." Other great performers for the Celtics were Gregg Allison in the pole vault, Dwayne Flores in the two mile, and sophomore Jim Garren in the high jump. Because of the many juniors and sophomores on the track squad, Coach Fors looks for much improvement in the coming year.

The Keys to Coach Fors Celtic Cínderman

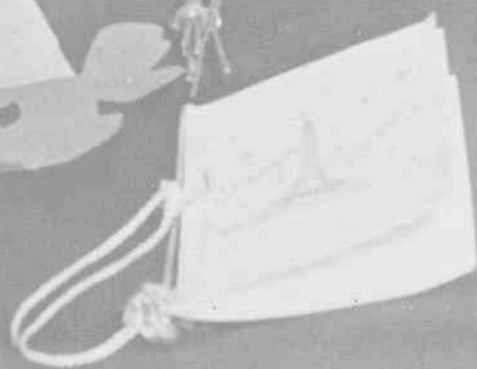

Two Celtic speedsters who have done outstanding jobs for McNary all year are ElVaughn Williams (left) and Steve Flores (right). Both will be leaving McNary this year for college. Coach Fors' tracksters will certainly miss these two gentlemen next year.

McNary Dedicated At Impressive Ceremonies

On Monday, November 15, McNary Senior High, the third Salem high school, was dedicated in an evening program, held in the gym. Members of the School Board, architects and contractors of the building, representatives of the ninth and eleventh units of the American Legion Auxiliary, members of the school staff, honored guests, and interested people from the community attended this event. Bob Wright, ASB President, opened the program after which Rev. Luther G. Roberts gave the prayer of dedication. In her speech, Mrs. Marens Maltby, Chairman of the School Board, dedicated McNary to the past, the present, and the future. After the dedication, platform guests were introduced; and auditorium, classroom, and outdoor flags were presented to class presidents. The two local American Legion Auxiliary units donated nearly 50 flags for inside the school, and outside flags were given by Mr. and Mrs. Onas Olsen. Dr. Charles Schilde, District Superintendent of Schools, was the final speaker. On behalf of everyone in the community who helped in the development of McNary, Dr. Schmidt presented Bob Wright with a key to the building. Bob accepted the key "in the true hope that it will lock out the darkness of illiteracy and lock in the light of education." An open house followed the program.

Mr. Gurnee Flesher, principal of McNary High, was among the many speakers at the Dedication. He introduced the guests and the school staff present.

McNary's A Cappella Choir under the direction of Mrs. Alice Jones performed well for those attending the dedication ceremonies.

Hearts, Flowers, And Flying Feet Highlight Valentine's Day Dance

Two special members of the "Here Is My Heart" court were teachers, Lady Gretta (Gettis) and Lord Bruce (Stewart).

When a polka record was played, spectators had as much fun watching as the dancers did dancing. Diane Fancher and Larry Moore were one of the many polka partners.

At the "Here Is Your Heart" Valentine dance, a royal court of six students was crowned. From the sophomore class, Debbie Pillette (front) and Bob Kitchen (not pictured) were the dutchess and duke. Lori Gardner and Fred Rich from the junior class were the princess and prince. The queen and king of the dance were seniors Kathy Hellesto and Dave Bowerly.

Putting up Christmas decorations are Teri Smith, Pam Rathbone, Judy Bishop, John Roberts, and Merna Bender.

Santa Claus Comes To McNary

Hades Angel, Richie Davis, cruelly attacked defenseless Bob Moore. Neil Bryant, master of ceremonies, witnessed the scene.

The finale of Spirit Week's activities was held in the gym on Friday. The classes competed in yelling and a tug of war. The sophomore team, (right), almost defeated the seniors, but the upperclassmen found victory – only to be beaten by the junior class in the next round.

Variety Was The Spice of Spirit Week

When all the points were added, the sophomore class finished ahead of the upperclassmen in Spirit Week contests. Would you believe they were glad?

One of the projects of the senior class was the podium placed in front of the Little Theater. Here they met to hear "spirit inspiring" speeches given by class members.

Freedom Foundation Presents Plaque

Student body officers, Bob Wright, Neil Bryant, Linda Collins, ElVaughn Williams, and Sandy Blogg, and McNary's principal, Gurnee Flesher, accepted the Freedom Award for McNary High.

On Monday, May 9, the Exchange Club of Salem presented Freedom Awards to McNary and three other Salem high schools. The ceremony was held at south Salem High and McNary was sponsored by the First National Bank of Oregon. The basis of this award follows these lines: . . . "The heritage of the past is the seed that brings forth the harvest of the future. Allow only one generation of youth to grow up without knowledge of and respect for our precious heritage and we are lost."

Beauty and excitement can be used to describe the First Annual Letterman's Gardenia Ball held in the flower-laden cafeteria May 6. Royalty in the form of three lovely princesses, Diane Fancher; sophomore, Corkie Svinth; junior, and Kathy Hellesto; senior, posed for pre-Ball recognition above. The coronation, below, took place during the dance after appreciation and presentation of roses to the rally squads. Chosen to reign was spritely Diane Fancher, right.

Whodunit Day, held on April 1, was the major special event during the '65-66 school year. Students came through the doors dressed in everything from casual clothes to bunny suits and tennie runners. In the afternoon, a special assembly consisting of relays, pie eating (and throwing) contests, tricycle races and leg judging contests was held. The sophomore class made outstanding showings coming out on top in a majority of the competitive events. The assembly was the finale and conclusion to a very successful day for everyone.

A large crowd made McNary's first prom a success.

Kathie Reames and Steve Copple enjoy the prom.

Whether in New York City or in Antelope, Oregon, students are the same. They lead lives of study, tests, and assemblies. Fortunately, McNary students were able to find variations in the daily routine. Since it is a suburban school, many students walked to school in all types of Oregon mornings. Pacing the halls and running to classes occupied most students' mornings. Lunch hour was utilized in various ways. Some outgoing and industrious students gathered to plan school activities, such as dances, parties, talent shows and assemblies. Others relaxed after lunch, as shown by part of the male population. In the afternoon, tests, classes, and assignments began again. The absentees made up tests, taxing their brains for answers.

Despite the seemingly endless hours, school is dismissed and the mass of Celtics leave, continuing their conversations which were started that morning.

Silly Things

Would you believe!

What did you catch, a girl?

Mud pies, at your age!

The Girls' League honored Linda Collins by voting her McNary's first Girl of the Year. As A.S.B. secretary, she kept the school scrapbook filled with every news clipping and picture available. She also served on many committees throughout the school year and was one of the more spirited Celtics. She worked diligently with A.S.B. president, Bob Wright, to ready the calendar of activities for the first year long before the first week of school. Linda was chosen out of ten candidates; five chosen before as Girls of the Month and five chosen by petition.

Rotarian, Girl of Year

Acknowledged

Bob Wright, A.S.B. president and a constant letterman, accepted the honor of being the first Rotarian of the Year at McNary. Bob guided the student council and the entire student body through the difficult first year and was responsible for the excellent McNary High School constitution and many good traditions set for future years. A student officer every year except one since the seventh grade, Bob was chosen by the student council from the nine Rotarians of the Month for his leadership and contributions to the school.

Scholarships Bring a Bright Future for Many Seniors

Doug Fisher looks like a true Navy man upon presentation of his University of Texas, N.R.O.T.C. Scholarship.

Kathy Patterson, recipient of an Oregon College of Education Scholarship, walks hopefully with Dave Haskell.

Celts and Germans

Senior exchange student Katharina Juhl brightened the halls, classrooms and students of McNary with her cheerful smile and happy personality this first year. Torn between the desire to be reunited with her family in Germany and the regret of leaving her American friends, Katharina returned to Hamburg in June.

Katharina is surrounded by her 'family' for the year; JoAnne, Mrs. Myers, Dan, and seated in the chair, Mr. Myers, in this informal picture.

Sign Friendship Pact

To one who does not realize he is one of our exchange students, Frieder Schneider appears to be a tall, good-looking senior. He fitted in well with the students and earned many friends during his school year here. Returning to his home in Bietigheim, Germany, in June, Frieder hopefully took fond memories of McNary with him.

Frieder relaxes with his American family, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Reh fuss and brother Steve, in their comfortable home.

Mrs. Wendling and Frieder have a friendly chat at the after school reception.

Before delivering speeches on Germany as it is today, Mr. Boost introduces Katharina and Frieder to the student body.

Acknowledgements

Senior portraits were taken by Stutzman Photo Company. We wish to thank Mr. Robert Stutzman, owner and operator of Stutzman Photo Company for his fine job and cooperation. We would also like to express our appreciation to Joseph V. Tompkins, commercial photographer, who recorded many special events at McNary for the Claymore.

The American Yearbook Company published the 1966 Claymore. Mr. Hunt Prah representative, assisted in the production of the yearbook and his advice was greatly appreciated.

The Claymore staff, at this time, would like to express its gratitude and appreciation to the faculty and administration of McNary High School for their cooperation and assistance.
